REMEMBER

loved ones who are not present this holiday season

HONOR

loved ones with a gift to support end-of-life care locally

CELEBRATE

with our caring community at the Tree of Life event

Dear Friends,

Over the past year, Hospice Giving Foundation has continued the essential work of investing in impactful agencies and providing educational opportunities around end-of-life decision-making. We remain committed to funding dedicated agencies that are caring for the people we love. This year, we have provided 30 education opportunities to equip, prepare, and promote end-of-life choices.

During this season, it is easy to be swept up in travel, shopping, cooking, and the bustle of the holidays. Our wish is that you take time to share stories, meals, and traditions that honor those you love. These are the encounters that create lasting memories. The Board and Staff at Hospice Giving Foundation are honored to be in community with you and hope you consider making a gift to support the continued and necessary work of caring for those nearing the end of life. To pay tribute to someone special, consider a gift in their honor. Your investments allow good work to flourish, bringing comfort and peace to families.

Wishing you joy this holiday season!
